Student Report by Madison Jacques

Monday: Our class went to the book fair at 8:35 and made our wish lists. We got ribbons after to write our heroes on. For about one hour we got the choice before the program to either read, do spelling, or do our ribbons. Then we went to the school program. It was so much fun.

Tuesday: We did Christmas carols in music and found out that we have a Social Studies test on Tuesday of next week.

Wednesday: We celebrated Ureze's half-birthday. She brought yummy berry muffins.

Thursday: The fourth and fifth grade performed. They were very super good! We celebrated Emma's birthday.

Friday: Today we celebrated Will's birthday. He had green frosted cookies and grape and berry Capri Sun.

What's Cooking:

Math: We will continue on with multiplication. Students have begun to earn ingredients for their multiplication ice cream sundaes!

Science: We will begin our next chapter over light, heat, and sound.

Social Studies: Our test over Chp. 3 will be Tuesday, Dec. 14th. A study guide was sent home this week.

Religion: The four marks of the church are one, holy, apostolic, catholic. The test will be next Wednesday.

Reading-We will not have a test over next week's story. However, I continue to remind the kids that they must re-read the weekly story at home on either Wednesday or Thursday before the test on Friday.
